About:

Ruin It is the hilarious adult party game where players compete to “ruin” their life by turning each topic card into the ultimate fiasco.

Which of these answers would make your “date night” a hot mess?

Forgot your wallet
Run into your ex-wife
Date doesn't resemble photo
She's a furry
Stood up again

Play Ruin It and find out!

How to Play:

Give each player an answer whiteboard and marker. Designate one player as the judge. (Have the youngest player be the first judge.) Have the judge pick a topic card and read it out loud using the phrase “Ruin — topic card — in four words or less.”

Ex: Topic card says, “vacation.”

Judge says “Ruin “vacation” in four words or less.”

Each player must then write down a way to ruin the topic in four words or less. Then, one by one, players should take turns reading their answer out loud.

A player may use less than 4 words,
but not more.

Example answers for “vacation” may include:

Family reunion
Got food poisoning
Brought the kids along
3rd degree sunburn
Destination Kentucky

Players should turn their whiteboards towards their bodies and hide their answers until everyone is finished writing. Once everyone is done writing their answer, the judge should ask players to turn their whiteboards outward so everyone can see what they wrote.

Then, one by one, players should take turns reading their answer out loud, starting with the person to the left of the judge. Immediately following all of the answers being read, players may spend a few seconds trying to convince the judge that their answer is the best (or worst, depending on how you look at it!)

Keeping Score:

When the judge feels ready, they may pick their favorite answer and give the player who wrote it two points. When there are four or more players, the judge will then pick a second favorite answer and award the player who wrote it one point.

Players who win points can keep track of them by tallying them in the “points” section of their whiteboard.
